Academics

NQF4 REAL ESTATE COURSE

The PPRA requires that all Candidate Property Practitioners comply with the following:

1. To complete the NQF4 qualification
2. To complete the logbook
3. To write the PDE4 exam
4. To serve a 1-year internship period, calculated from the date of issue of your 1st FFC.

The above must be done within 2 years.

The qualification requires an intensive study process, is not easy and doesn't happen overnight.

Furthermore, it empowers the Candidate Property Practitioner with essential theoretical knowledge to put into practice.

The logbook is compiled over a few months. If you complete your qualification 1st, many of the items required for the logbook has already been compiled and can just be added in.

The PDE4 cannot be written before the NQF4 qualification is achieved and the logbook has been accepted by the PPRA. It can only be submitted from the 13th month after date of 1st registration.

- The qualification training is separated from the logbook compilation and the PDE4.
- Candidate Property Practitioners can follow the qualification first,
- thereafter opt to complete the logbook;
- then register for the PDE4 with the Services Seta Real Estate.
- We have a payment plan (See enrolment form for payment options).
